

Constant Care

When You're Not There

Constant Care...
24 hours a day, 7 days a week

The Essence emergency response system offers immediate assistance with a click of a button. Its robust speaker allows for two-way voice communication from a distance, and the wearable emergency pendant ensures convenience. Pressing a button during an emergency activates the speaker system, connecting you to the response center.

Peace of mind...
without landline phone service

The Essence emergency response system sends alarm signals through the nearest cellular tower to a trained dispatch team. It features a two-way voice speaker and microphone, eliminating the need for a landline. With clear audio and a battery backup, it ensures reliable communication with the 24/7 response center.

Peace of mind...
without landline phone service

With this system, assistance is just a button press away when you need it most. This advanced setup utilizes the nearest cellular tower to transmit an alarm signal to the highly trained dispatch team, who will communicate with you through the high-quality two-way voice speaker and microphone integrated into the alarm system. There's no need for a landline telephone service. The speaker's crystal-clear audio quality with impressive range within your home ensures a secure and effective connection to our 24/7 response center.

Connect with a real person... without the need for an immediate home visit

Connect with a real person via the dispatch system who will provide you with assistance. If you need additional help during an emergency, they will contact your family or emergency responders for further support.

Constant Care...
24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

Professional operators are available to take your call 24/7. With just a click of a button, the system presents all the essential information, including the address, family contacts, and any available medical history, allowing us to respond to your call swiftly and professionally.

Living independently can present difficulties, particularly for seniors dealing with health issues. This service offers a simple, discreet, and cost-effective solution, enabling individuals to experience the benefits of independent living while having the comfort of knowing that assistance is readily available whenever necessary.
